

Gift to the Public Library

A gift to the public library is a true community gift.

It can reach people of any age, of any circumstance.

The East Moline Public Library began with generous gifts from far-sighted donors. You are invited to add your name to a legacy of East Moline Public Library donors.

East Moline Public Library

EAST MOLINE PUBLIC LIBRARY

“Libraries are not made, they grow.” In 1915 with 600 books and 111 library cards the library officially opened, and our library has grown ever since. A large part of this growth has been due to memorials, gifts, bequests, and endowments provided by concerned civic-minded citizens.

Making a Gift

There are many ways to help the library continue to grow:

1. Purchase a Memorial book for the collection.
2. Endow a special service.
3. Establish a trust fund for library materials.
4. Make an outright bequest or gift to the library for use as the Library Board sees fit.
5. Establish a charitable remainder trust for the benefit of the library.

All donations are tax deductible.

Memorial Books

Leave a lasting memorial for a loved-one. Honor an employee, graduate, or volunteer. Commemorate a birthday, retirement or anniversary. Create something special for your honoree, the library, and the entire community. Contact the library to select a memorial book.

Bequests, Endowments,

Trusts

Funds may be left to the library for a variety of purposes. The following is a suggested form for an outright bequest, which you may have your attorney adopt to fit your ends:

“I give and bequest $ _____ to the East Moline Public Library, East Moline, IL. I recognize that the particular use which should be made of these funds can best be determined in view of the conditions existing at the time. Accordingly, the amount may be used by the library’s governing board within its sole discretion for any purpose consistent with the objectives of the library”

Members of the Library Board or the Library Director are available to discuss such memorials with you and your legal counsel.
